Not a Goldbug. Washington, December 13.—(Special.)— The action of the Reform Club towards

Speaker Crisp Saturday last is still the sub-iect of much discussion here. One of the New York papers this morning contains a statement from Mr. E. Ellery Anderson. When asked about the Associated Press ining him that Speaker Crisp expected make a speech at the dinner and had prepared the sa,me he replied: "I do remem-ber that the reporter told me Mr. Crisp had pepared a speech and I expressed great sat-infaction. When I reached the dinner, however, I found that Mr. Crisp was not on the list of speakers, and as he did not inform me that he would be pleased to speak I did not call upon him. You will recall that Mr. Crisp voted against us on the silbill and we never have regarded him as not our candidate for the speakership. We would much prefer Wilson, of West ia. That wuld be natural, would it

Editor Frank Hatton, of The Washingon Post, who was postmaster general nu-der Garfield, and is a republican, in The ost this morning in concluding a long ediial about Speaker Crisp's treatment at eform Club dinner, says:

The trouble is that the mugwumps are a their old game of mischief-making. It a great pity that Mr. Cleveland or any her democrat should have been made the ment consciously of their pistiferous ity. They wrecked the republican arty and now they are at work on the spectratic. The latter will be wise if ay profit by this incident and leave the second at the future."

The rumor that Mr. Blaine was about to ion the Roman Catholic church which was current here after the visit of Father Ducey to this city last Saturday was revived again oday in a more specific manner after it became known that Cardinal Gibbons had een one of the sick statesman's visitors

It is not said that Mr. Blaine co plated joining the church, but that in fact he had already done so. The rumor went so far as to state that Mr. Blaine had said to al Gibbons that he would have joined the church long ago had it not been for po-litical exigencies which mitght have injured him in his career, on account of the strong inti-Catholic feeling. Cardinal Gibbons eturned to Baltimore this afternoon and could not be seen, and at the Blaine resiice no one would even discuss the ruwever, do not give it any credence and erely ascribe Cardinal Gibbons's visit to d friendship. Governor Dingley, of Maine, who is very close to Mr. Blaine, says there is no doubt that Mr. Blaine entertains a high regard for the church of which his was a member, and under the sacred rites of which all his children, with the exteption of Emmons, were married. Governor Dingley declares emphatically that there is no truth, hewever, in the rumor that Mr. Blaine has joined the church.

It has been Mr. Blaine's misfortune," aid he, "all his life to be the victim of all orts of sensational stories. I give it no oce, whatever."

Fred Mussey as an Auctioneer auction sale for seats in the restauant of the capitol yesterday was perhaps the most interesting sale of the kind ever ed in America. Mr. Fred Mussey, the well known correspondent of The Cincin-nati Commercial Gazette, acted as auction-ter. The boxes were sold from $200 to ren all four of the upstairs boxes brought ore than $200 each, while the first two in the orchestra were bid off at $100 sch. Scores of them sold for $50 each, and several hunderd for $25 and from that the gare down as low as $5. All seats on he main floor were disposed of.

The bidding was very lively. Members of concess government officers and diplomats against each other. Of course the out of the unique performance. It will be conspicuous for having in the audience the gest number of prominent Americans sthered upon one occasion.

Speaker Crisp purchased three seats at each. All the other members of the corgia delegation bought one seat each at om five to ten dollars. The club has reom its sale of seats up to tonight,

In Montana the legislature is very close and the party which organizes the house gets the advantage on the committee or elections and will carry off the senatorship The democratic managers in New York feel quite confident that they will get the legislature and elect a successor to Senator Saunders, he of the loud mouth who boasts of his experiences in lynching horse thieves at the head of a band of vigilantes.

Senator Saunders once told a story at a dinner party here in a braggadocio style about how his band lynched a horse thief one day. The fellow's neck would not break and Saunders says he jumped up and caught bim by his shoulders, swinging on until his neck was broken. The senator

Should the democrats get the legislature N. A. Clark, a large mine owner and a wealthy man will probably be elected sen-

The democrats seem to have the best of the contest in Wyoming and by good management they will elect the success Senator Warren.

It is possible that owing to the political row in this state over the result of the election and the fact that both a democrat and republican governor are attempting to occupy the state capitol new, two legisla-tures may be organized and each elect a senator. In that event, of course, the democrat will be seated, as it is clearly evident, on the face of the returns, that the demo crats carried the state.

In Kansas and Nebraska the situations are very much mixed. But the indications now favor the election of populist senator from each of these states.

Under Senator Gorman's manager is quite safe to count upon the senate being democratic even with admitting New Mexico and Arizona which will be done. Justice Lamar Very Itl.

Justice L. Q. C. Lamar is again very ill. For two years past he has been in very bad health and his friends are anxious about his condition at present. While right now it is not such as to cause any immediate fear, still he is a very sick man.

The projected causes of republican senators on the condition of affairs in the legislatures of doubtful western states has apparently fallen through. It is stated that interest in the matter was manifested almost exclusively by senators immediately concerned, and consequently the caucus has been postponed to a more convenient season.

The senate has confirmed the nominations of Person C. Cheney, of New Hampshire, sto be minister of Switzerland; Charles C. Clarke of Virginia, United States marshal of the eastern district of Virginia; Thomas J. Flanner, of Louislana, to be receiver of public moneys at Natchitoches.

Secretary Noble tonight gave a dinner to members of the Cherokee Indian commission, composed of David N. Jerome, chairman, Alfred M. Wilson and Warren G. The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today decided to hear Senator Morgan and others on the Nicaragun canal tomorrow. The committee made the measure authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river above New Orleans a special order of business for the first meeting in January.

The subcommittee of the house committee on appropriations in charge of the preparation of the sundry civil bill, had a busy session this morning. General H. V. A Shot in the Dark.

Shortly afterwards Bulwer Forgey, who lived near the scene, heard noises on his premises and going to the door was assailed with revolver shots, one bullet striking him in the right shoulder, breaking his arm. No attempt was made to rob him and it is supposed the desperadoes, trying to escape in the dark, were determined to prevent pursuit. Is is suspected they were members of a gang of toughs now infesting this city. Forgey is the Robber.

At 8 o'clock this evening detectives arrested Burrell Forgey for the train robbery. He is the man who said he was shat in the right shoulder after the robbery by prowlers around his house. Forgey corresponds exactly to the description of the tall robber and has been identified by Matheson as the man who shot him.

Richmond, Va., December 13.—Ceremonies incident to the unveiling of a monument to the memory of the dead members of the old Richmond Howitzer battallion of artillery took place at Richmond theater this afternoon. The building was crowded from pit to dome despite the pouring of the rain. James B. Moose, president, introduced Rev. William Dame, who offered prayer, after which Mr. W. L. White introduced the orator, Mr. Leigh Robinson, of Washington. After the oration which was greatly applauded a procession composed of the local infantry, cavalry and artillery, the old plauded a procession composed of the lo-cal infantry, cavalry and artillery, the old veterans of the Howitzer Association, Lee camp and Pickett camp and confederate reterans marched through the principal streets to the monument in West End.

The young artillerymen that compose the present battery dropped out of line and proceeded to the monument ahead of the procession. Here Captain Hutcheson caused a salute of thirteen guns to be fired just as the veil was thrown aside by Colonel J. C. Shields.

BARKSDALE'S GOOD SENSE.

He Points Out the Errors Into Which Third Partyltes are Trying to Lead the Alliance. Pariyites are Trying to Lead the Alliance.
Jackson, Miss., December 13.—(Special.)—
Hon. E. Barksdale, who for the past year conducted the alliance department of The State Ledger with such ability, today announces that his contract having expired, that he ceases to be the editor of that department.
In speaking of the alliance he says: "The attempt of the officials and controlling agents in the national body to convert the order into a party organization, and to amend the plain, needful and constitutional demands of the order with unpractical propositions, it is apprehended, have diminished its members and impaired its usefulness. It is left for the future to determine whether under the influence of the sober second thought the mischlef will be repaired."
While Major Barksdale is a strong allianceman, he has had no patience with the third partytics, and in the canvass just closed made one of the strongest speeches of his life for democracy.

THE TWO HERESY TRIALS.

Dr. Briggs Speaks in His Own Defence

Professor Smith's Sentence.

New York, December 13.—The trial of Dr. Briggs for heresy was resumed today; Rev. Dr. J. C. Bliss presiding. Dr. Briggs, in his defense, first pointed out the difference between a presbytery sitting as a deliberative body and as a judiciary. He discussed the arguments of Dr. Birch and Colonel McCook, complimenting Dr. Birch on his earnestness, but said there was no real attempt in the argument to prove charges of Colonel McCook's. The argument, he said, was forcible, plausible and specious but the theologian, who spoke in Colonel McCook's behalf, evidently preferred a dogamato Christian life. So far as to Colonel McCook's argument is concerned, the holy scripture, it was conspicuous in it by its absence.

Numerous resolutions were referred to appropriate committees. The most sensational one was by Delegate Morgan, of Chicago, that the convention join in the plea of the governor of the state of Illinois for the pardon of Oscar Neele, Samuel Fielding and Michael Schwab.

SHORT WORK IN WEST VIRGINIA. A Negro Tough Who Killed Some Officers

Wheeling, W. Va., December 13.—Blood has been flowing freely down in the Elkhorn mining region the last few days. As the record now stands, two men have been murdered, one lynched and a faithful officer of the law lies mortally wounded.

The first victim of the murderer was officer James Brooks, who was killed at Keystone, on the Elkhorn river, in an attempt to suppress disorder growing out of a too free indulgence by the miners in liquor on pay-day. Officer Dillon and Constable Burton attempted to regulate a negro tough named Cornelius Coffee, when Coffee opened fire on them. Dillon was shot through the right breast, near the nipple, and died. Constable Burton received a ball in the body, but is expected to pull through with close attention.

This shooting following so closely on the murder of Officer James Brooks, stirred up great excitement and a close search was made for Coffee, who succeeded, however, in bearing a Chesaneake and Ohio train and was soon over the line into Virginia. Conductor Griffin recognized Coffee on the train and telegraphed to the officers at Pocahontas, who arrested him on the arrival of the train. The West Virginia authorities were notified and Detective Eugene Robinson went to Pocahontas, secured his man and started back to Elkhorn. When Keystone, the scene of the tragedy, was reached a mob of determined men entered the train, quietly relieved Robinson of his man and proceeded to a tree close by the track. Coffee was dangling from a limb in a few moments, while the mob riddled his body with 100 bullets and then dispersed, leaving the corpse dangling at the end of the rope.

Philip Nicolas Under Arrest Charged With Scuttling a Boat.
Richmond, December 13.—Philip L. Nicholas Richmond, December 13.—Philip L. Nicholas has been arrested in Henrico county, charged with murdering James Mills and Judson Wilkinson. The three went out in a boat last Thursday on the James river above Richmond. Nicholas soon afterwards appeared at their joint residence dripping wet, claiming that the boat had overturned and that Mills and Wilkinson were drowned. The boat was recovered and several newly-made auger holes were found in the bottom, which fact, coupled with the known intimacy between Nicholas and the wife of Mills, led to the suspicion that he had "fixed" the boat and brought about the death of both men. Nicholas is under arrest.

Senator Smyth, of Charleston, declared that if there was any division the caucus was responsible for it. "Divisions are being made here all the time" he said. "If the senate refuses to place proper safe guards around the election, the responsibility is on the majority."

Sentor John Gary Evans, of Aiken, said he was shocked by Buist's statement. "My God," said he. "has it come to this that the charge is made that an honest count cannot be held in a contest between white democrats. Coming from the senator from Charleston it sounds very much like the devil quoting scripture, as his county was the only place where dishonesty was committed."

It is now thought by many that if Artist Park has not progressed too far in his work on the statue, that the strong influences being brought to bear upon the commissioners from Montana may yet result in the selection of Mrs. Beach, who is the most prominent among Montana's aspirants for the honor. The commissioners ascribe the selection of Miss Re the fact that the distance is too great be tween Chicago and Montana.

REINACH'S

He Swallowed Poison After a Conference with Clemenceau.

EXCITING DAY IN THE CHAMBERS.

Another Ministerial Crisis Probably at Hand

OVER THE PANAMA CANAL SCANDALS

Bouvier Proven to Have Been Closely Connected with Reinsch in the Wholesale Stealing.

Paris, December 13.—Another ministerial crisis is probably impending. The exposure of the connection of M. Pouvier, minister of mance, with the Panama scandal, is believed by many to render necessary a reconstruction of the cabinet. It now appears that Rouvier was so closely connected with Reinach, as to have been present with M. Herts at a final interview with M. Reinach, just previous to the baron's death. This secrete Rouvier has been hiding ever since that event and the exposure of the fact has caused a tremendous sensation.

The Goulois this morning gives the details of Reinach's last hours. It appears that Reinach, afte a final interview with Rouvier and Hertz, finding all hope gone of any escape from exposure and probably severe and disgraceful legal penalty for his share in the Panama frauds, went back home at in the Panama frauds, went back home at midnight, wrote several letters and destroyed many documents. Then he swallowed poison and died about 1 o'clock in the morning. Minister Rouvier has been summoned to give evidence before the Panama investigating commission of the chambers of deputies. Hertz has also been summoned, but it is doubtful whether he will appear.

ties. Hertz has also been summoned, but it is doubtful whether he will appear.

There was an exciting scene today when Rouvier was called upon to give an explanation to the deputies of his connection with the Panama frauds.

Rouvier confirmed the statement made by Clemenceau, editor of The LaJustice, to the effect that he had visited Clemenceau on the night Reinach died, but that Clemenceau was not in and did not see him.

M. De Roulede attacked M. Rouvier in a violent address. During the ancident a crowll thronged the lobbies, expecting at any moment to hear that the ministry had resigned.

M. DeRoulede in his attack upon M. Rouvier maintained that Rouvier had visited Baron DeReinach to arrange for the stopping of the Panama canal prosecution. He did not believe Rouvier's statement that he was ignorant of the intention to prosecute Reinach. If the chamber was desirous of clearing up the scandals, which he doubted, it should convoke the supreme court, before which Rouvier might appear and defend himself. Rouvier said he was willing to be judged by the supreme court, which statement was applauded.

King Charles Will Abdicate

Vienna, December 13.—The report that King Charles, of Roumania, will abdirate shortly in favor of Crown Prince Ferdinand is reiterated here. The king is said to have decided to renounce his crown immediately after the marriage of the crown prince with Princess Marie, of Edinburgh. He had been moved to this decision by the unpleasantness, caused between him and his ministers by his unstable attitude at the time when Queen Elizabeth was trying to marry Prince Ferdinand to Madame Vacaresco. An additional reason has been found in the incurable illness of the queen.

A Pauper's Good Luck.

London, December 13.—A pauper, named Sheridan, an inmate of the Lambert workhouse, has come into a fortune of £300,000 by the death of an aunt, Mrs. Blake. Sheridan has two sons, both of whom emigrated to America years ago.

NO OFFICIAL NEWS

Of the Garzs Outbreak in Mexico-But the Washington, December 13.—General Schofield said today that he had no official news of the Garza outbreak on the Mexican border. It is doubtless true but not, perhaps, so serious as reported. This was the rainy season in Mexico and for that reason a band of marauders could not find any grass to feed their horses. A spirit of unrest seemed to prevail among the lawless on the border, and he expected to hear of foraging bands during the season. A Bill on a New Line. Columbia, S. C., December 12.—(Special.) A bill was introduced in the house today making it a misdemeanor for any person to prevent an employe from belonging to any labor organization or political club or to threaten to discnarge him because of his connection with such organization. The penalty is $100 fine or six months' imprisonment. It is hinted that this is the outgrowth of the charge by the administration that the corporations during the recent state campaign discharged employes because they were Tillmanites.

Chile and the United States

Valparaiso, December 13.—News of the ratification by the states of the potocol relating to claims were received with pleasure in Santiago. It is hoped by the government that the appointment of arbitrators will be left to Mr. Cleveland. The pages of Valparaiso and Santiago contain bitter comments on Mr. Egan's return. They hope the government will show him scant courtesy.

New York, December 13.—The Coney island club has arranged to give the public a large and attractive card on the night of the 28th instant. The principal event will be a fight to the finish between "Billy" Plimmer, of England, and Joe McGrath, the Irish baatam. It will be to the finish for the 110 pound championship and a purse of $2,500. Both men are now in training.

MACON'S DAILY CRIME RECORD

This Murderer Killed His Wife-Other Central City News-No Scarlet Fever at Wesleyan.

Macon, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of the state vs. Lewis Lewis, a pegro charged with mur-der, after being out an hour and a half this morning, returned a virdict of guilty. The prosecution was conducted by Solicitor General W. H. Felton, assisted by Captain J. L. Hardeman. The prisoner was represented by Colonel J. P. Cooper and J. A.

On September 16, 1892, Lewis walked into his room where his wife was sitting on the side of the bed. He sat beside her and began a quarrel. He told her that she should never have the benefit of another dollar of his money and she replied that if he would not support her there were plenty of men in town who would. This enraged Lewis. Pulling a pistol from his pocket, without a moment's hesitation, he shot her in the head, killing her instantly. This is his third trial and it is more than probable that he will hang on the same gallows that ended Willie Bell's existence two weeks

No Scarlet Feyer at Wesleyan No Scarlet Fever at Wesleyan.

Dr. W. C. Bass, the president of Wesleyan Female college, states that the young lady, Miss Taylor, who, in the recent past, has been sick with scarlet fever, has entirely recovered and in a few days will resume her studies. The eighty young ladies who left immediately for their homes at the first appearance of the fever in the college, will return after the Christmas holidays. All fears of an epidemic have subsided, and the students from the city are in daily attendance.

Closed by the Sheriff.

Closed by the Sheriff. Mr. George Schall, a retail shoe dealer on Air. George Schall, a retail shoe dealer on Cherry street, who made an assignment on the 8th to Arthur Dasher, for the benefit of his creditors, was closed up by the sheriff last night under certain attachments from sundry creditors. Bond will be given and the store will be reopened this evening. The matter has gone to the superior court and will probably be heard Saturday. Breaking Up the Gambiers.

The police this morning made a raid upon one of the lowest negro gambling dens on "Bridge Row" and secured eleven of the gang. It will be remembered that this is the place where the negro Tom Lane was murdered Saturday night.

They were all up before the recorder this morning who sentenced them to twelve months on the chaingang or to pay a fine $50 each.

The immediate relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties are in receipt of the following invitations: Mrs. Charles H. Lewis, the apodal wonder, and the burlesque, "The Darktown Circus, or America Discovering Columbus," introducing a genuine circus parade, grand entry, vaulting, tumbling, etc., by a number of the world's greatest acrobuts.

The Cincinnati Enquirer thus spoke of the performance:
"Everything in the programme is bright breezy, witty, pleasing, refined and spley without a particle of double entendre. The musical and vocal department is simply immense, and the songs were a revelation to people who have harvested crop after crop of chestnuts. The gags were new, timely and fetching. The olio was made up of a series of vastlyentertaining acts. The sketches and the afterpiece, entitled "The Darktown Circus," was one of the funniest and most ambitious attempts our people have seen in that line.

ambifious attempts our people have seen in that line.

"Mr. Field himself was given a royal reception when he appeared, and so was Frank McNish and Jerry Hart and each of the jolly fun-makers. The last appearance of this splendid troupe will be tonight. All who desire to go tonight should apply early for seats, which will be on sale at the opera house beginning at 10 o'clock this morning, for the Pike will be packed to the walls tonight without a doubt. Managers John Havlin and R. E. J. Miles were in front seats. They led the applause every time."

THE COMMEDIAN FRANK DANIELS.

Frank Daniels, the inimitable comedian, who is coming with his most successful piece, "Little Puck," has this season the largest farce comedy company on the road. It numbers twenty-five people. Mr. Daniels, although, of course, the central figure of the performance, does not believe in trying to give the whole show himself. He has, therefore, secured the clever-set people possible for give the whole show himself. He has, therefore, secured the clever-at people possible for this sixth year of "Little Puck." At the head of the organization we notice the name of that clever and bright little comedy actress, Miss Bessle Sanson. Among others in the cast are Harry Corson Clarke, John Canfield, Robert Evans, D. L. Don, W. S. Belknap, George C. Campbell, Thomas Nelson, William Baker, the original Clipper Quartet and the Misses Hattle Waters, Camfie D'Elmar, Violet Carlton, Annita Zeina, Ella Wilson, Minnie Miller and others. Frank Daniels's engagement here is for three performances only, commencing Friday night, December 16th, with a matinee on Saturday, December 16th, with a matinee on Saturday, December 17th. The repertoire will be as follows: Friday night and Saturday matinee, the fantastic extravaganza, "Little Puck;" Saturday night, "Dr. Cupid." Sale of seats for this important engagement begins Wednesday morning, December 14th.

to work with his usual industry and succeeded in saving all the surrounding buildings.

The building which was burning when the department reached the place was the Old Dominion Guano Works. The building is one of the largest in that section of the city and has been the property of Maddox Rucker & Oo. for some time past. It was valued at $50,000 and was well insured. It was located at the end of Edgewood avenue and was near the Richmond and Danville shops. It had been burning quite a while when the fire department first knew of the fire.

The Richmond and Danville cars which were along the track near the building when the fire began were rolled away to save them. Then some of the cars were destroyed before the men could push them away. The building was well insured.

THE GRADY HOSPITAL PIANO

Now Is the Time to Buy.

Now Is the Time to Buy.

That handsome piano which the Atlanta Piano Company gave the Grady hospital sometime ago, will be raffled soon.

The piano is now in the hospital building and is one of the best and finest musical instruments in Atlanta. Long before the hospital was open the piano was to be raffled, but owing to the illness of the lady in charge of it, the raffle was postponed. In the meantime, however, over six hundred chances had been sold, and now that some disposition of that money must be made, the management has decided to let the piano go as was originally contemplated. Mrs. Purtell has the matter in hand and wants to dispose of about two hundred more tickets. This will be an excellent opportunity for some one to secure one of the finest riverse in the south some one to secure one of the finest pianos in the south at a small price. The attention of the members of the legislature is especially in-vited to the work.

Little five-year-old Prince Charters, all dressed out in a new tan suit trimmed in brown braid, a sailor collar, a soft Alpine hat and knee pants, strayed away from his mamma at the Kimball house yesterday morning, and for half the day he was lost and being sought for.

After an hour had passed his mamma was very anxious and had a search instituted at once. All throught the Kimball little Prince was looked for, and when it was certain that he was not there, Mrs. Charters went to police headquarters in great alarm and reported the loss of her boy to Detective Crim, giving a clear description of the youthful runaway. Notice of little Prince's disappearance was read out to the pclice, together with a description of the boy. So it came to pass that the entire police force were engaged in searching for a little man, who had only gone out of a walk for the good of his health.

Meantime he was walking aimlessly about viewing the city with the air of a capitalist contemplating an investment. About the middle of the afternoon he got hungry and turned towards his boarding house. He strolled leisurely in, and the elevator man put him off at his mamma's room, 520.

The police were notified that the boy was found, and that they need not arrest a little boy in a tan suit and sailor's collar if they found him wandering around town.

He Breathes His Last at His Home on Washington Street Last Night.

Mr. James Ormond, one of Atlanta's oldest and most respected citizens, died last night at his home, 479 Washington street.

Mr. Ormond was seventy-eight years old.
A week ago he was stricken with paralysis and since that time his death has been a matter of time. For the past two days he has been sinking rapidly, and when death came to his relief last night those about him were prepared for it.

Mr. Ormond was born at Leith, Ccotland, May 7th, 1815 and came to this country when yet a young man. He settled in Atlanta in 1858 and this has been his home ever since. He was a quiet, unassuming gentleman. He made friends of all with whom he met. He was a successful business man, and for years was one of Atlanta's leading commercial factors. He leaves a wife and five children, three sons and two daughters, who are heart broken over the loss they have sustained. Mrs. Milton Smith and Mrs. James Thomas are the two daughters. The three sons are Messrs. Russel, James and Robert.

The arrangements for the funeral will be made today.

THE STRIKE IN SAVANNAN,

There Is No Great Change in the Situ Savannah, December 13.—(Special.)—The outcome of the telegraphers' strike will remain in doubt for several days. Tonight each side professes confidence of victory. The men claim that the Central is badly crippled. Superintendent Wadley denies this and asserts that business is going on with comparatively little disadvanagge to the company or the public. So far as Savannah is directly concerned this is doubt-less true.

vannah is directly concerned this is doubtless true.

This may be due to the brief period of the strike thus far. Several agents reported to the committee today that on surrendering their keys to Superintendent McKeeley, who made a trip up the road last night in a special car with a score of police officers and some clerks who are to act as telegraphers and agents for the time being, they were refused receipts for the money, tickets and other property turned over to the company by them. As they are bonded, they naturally objected to strange men being put in charge with nothing given to them to show that they turned over things in proper shape to the company.

Our stores will remain open every night during the holidays until 9 o'clock. You are condially invited to call. MAIER & BERKELE, dec14-7t 31 and 93 Whitehall Street.

Industrial Matters of Interest to That

EDITOR LAWRENCE HAS ANOTHER CARD

Highwaymen in Rome-Colonel Hamilton and the Beresford Case-Local and Personal Gossip.

Rome, Ga., December 13.-(Special.)-Arrangements are being made to put the umber business of J. J. O'Neil & Son, which assigned a few weeks ago, on its feet again. Mr. J. L. Camp, who has been operating the business as assignee for a short time, will probably be the principal stockholder and Mr. J. J. O'Neil will be the manager. The new company proposes to greatly en-large the plant and to add considerable improvements to the machinery of the plan-ing mill. This concern for many years did an enormous business but the effect of two floods and a great fire last spring crippled the proprietors and made it impossible for continue business. The new company, which is being organized, will embrace some of Rome's leading business men as stockholders, and the plant will give employnent to a large number of people. Says they Didn't Do It.

Mr. R. Lawrence, the editor of the paper which was destroyed by fire at Cedar Bluff, published a disclaimer this morning of the accusations against the populists whom he had charged as destroying his property. He says his letter was not intended for publi-cation and was written under excitement.

cation and was written under excitement. He says:

Editor Tribune—I hereby withdraw any statement reflecting on the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union or populists contained in ny private letter to you under date of December 8th, which was written under excitement and not for publication. I did not mean to charge the fire to any one, but only referred to boycotts as perhaps affording the miscreant who burned The Free Press a cloak under which to carry out his diabolical purpose. I regret exceedingly the publication.

It is announced that the excitement down at Cedar Bluff has considerably abated and that the matter will soon be settled.

Colonel Bamilton Is Back.

Colonel D. B. Hamilton has returned from Washington, where he went to represent the state in the Beresford case before the United States supreme court. It will be some time before the case is reached on the docket. Beresford says that his book will be in the hands of an Atlanta publisher in a few days and that it will be profusely illustrated and will be a very attractive volume. It will give the full story of his experience with Georgia and contain portraits of all persons who took a prominent part in the now famous case.

There is no city court this week as was announced. Judge W. T. Turnbull is very ill at his home, and it is announced that it will be several days before he will be able to go to the courthouse. He intends, however, to open his court next Monday and devote the week to the criminal docket in order to clear the jail as far as possible. There are upwards of thirty prisoners in the Rome jail. They are of all sorts, from negro coal stealers to Lord Beresford.

Highwaymen in Rome.

Developments last night indicate that the spirit of the Morrow gang is still abroad in the land.

Henry Sanford, a well-known negrodrayman, was held up just out of South Rome shortly after midnight and robbed. Sanford transfers the baggage to and from the opera house for the show people and it was past midnight last night when he finished removing the baggage of the Lizzie Evans company, which played here. When Sanford's work was done he started for his home, which is a mile out of South Rome. He was riding his horse and when near his place three men met him and one seized the bridle of his horse, while another covered him with a revolver and the third went through his pockets. Sanford happened to have but little money in his pockets. This the footpads took and asked him "What in the h—I he was doing out that late with nothing to defend himself with?"

Morrow Bound Over. Morrow Bound Over.

John Morrow, who has been in jail here since the shooting of Sheriff McGinnis, was given a preliminary trial this afternoon before Justice Harris. He was bound over under the charge of accessory to the shooting and required to give a five-hundred-dollar bond. He could not make the bond and was remanded to jail.

The three spacious rooms on the right were thrown into one and used for the dance. The walls were garlanded with Japanese bamboo vines and in the deep window seats and al-coves were placed many graceful palms, while the lights from tapers and softly shaded lamps added to the richness and brilliancy of scene oriental in its luxurious lovelines Mrs. Fontaine, Miss Fontaine and Miss Mary Fontaine, of Columbus, received their guests in the dainty blue room on the left, where many plnk roses formed the decora-

Spoons.

The craze for spoons is one that does not seem to be at all on the wane, and certainly so pretty a custom deserves the attention it has received.

If souvenir spoons possessed no other attraction, the facilities they offer for conversation are unlimited. If one finds in one's pretty teacup any one of the various spoons designed as souvenirs of Boston, while one's neighbor possesses a poon with the statue of liberty for a handle and New York engraved in the bowl, numerous topics of conversation are suggested to break the ice between those who have been strangers until a few moments previous.

Some of the daintiest coffee spoons are those usually called "love spoons." A heart forms the bowl, while the handle is either an arrow twined with flowers, or a cupid perches airily on the quiver.

Of other varieties of spoons there is no limit, from the tiniest coffee spoon to the heavily chased tablespoon. Bonbon spoons are unusually lovely and show the most intricate and beautiful work. One of these spoons is in filigree work and resembles the delicate frost work which the frost king leaves as a memento of his visit.

We read of that king who melted pearls and drank them and surely our modern banqueters equal him in luxury and excel him in dainty eating, when they feast on ices frozen in the hearts of pale pluk roses, taking the ice from its dainty cup with small gold spoons, their handles thickly set with rubies.

Maier & Berkele have a most exquisite line of spoons in all sizes and designs.

Cured in 3 Months, Salt Rheum of 20 Years' Standing, her We All Other Remedies Failed.

It gives me pleasure to recommend your Cuticura Remedies to all who are troubled with the various forms of skin diseases and blood poison. I have prescribed your Cuticura on several occasions, and it has never falled to give good results. I remember of one special case I had, where all other remedies failed until I tried your Cuticura Remedies. After using Cuticura, Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Resolvent, the patient was sound and well. She was troubled with salt rheum, and had been a sufferer for over twenty years. After beginning the use of Cuticura Remedies she was cured sound and well in three months.

TO BE KILLED.

The Hostile Railroad Bills Reported Unfavorably.

MR. COMER ARGUES AGAINST THEM.

Their Defeat Asked for by the Minority Stockholders - Major Bacon Writes a Letter.

The representatives of the railroads left the statehouse in good humor last night. Without a dissenting vote the senate railroad committee had agreed to make an un-favorable report on the bills which are con-

As for the bills which are to be reported with a recommendation that they do pass, no concern is felt. They are harmless and are commended by the railroad people.

Such are the wrecking bills of Major Bacon and the general railroad bill of Mr.

Allen, chairman of the house committee.

Major Bacon consented to the killing of his bill against syndicates rating railroad stock and the other limiting the amount of capital stock and floating debt a railroad may carry.

This came about through Mr. Comer's statement that the passage of such legislation would upset the present scheme of reorganization for the Central and cause its stockholders and junior security holders to sacrifice their

Mr. Comer addressed the senate committee in the senate chamber last night and told the members plainly that the bill prohibing railroad stock being consolidated and rated in perpetuity, and limiting the issue of capital stock would very seriously effect millions of dollars held by Georgians. The president and the receiver of the Central road made a clear, terse statement of the situation. He said that the committee might be startled as he had been in learning that the Central railroad is insolvent. It is insolvent in the sense, he explained, that under the present conditions it is impossible for the system to earn enong money to pay its operating expenses and its fixed charges, that is interest on its bonds and its motive of the company's net earnings were $2,216,687, and that year the system had the heaviest tonnage in its history. To put the property in the condition in which it can be most economically managed, will require $4,575,000. If the company's indebtedness could be refunded as 5 per cent the annual interest would amount to $2,560,228.87. That is about $300,000 more than the net earnings for the year ending June 30, 1891, the system of this year. For the seven months from March 4th to October 1st, of this year, the gross earnings were $247,000 less than for the same period the year before and the net earnings were $247,000 less. These facts were mentioned by Mr. Comer to explain why he said that the company is insolvent. Reorganization is necessary. By reorganization, he meant placing one general mortgage on the whole property. It is estimated that it will take a $40,000,000 more facts were mentioned by Mr. Comer to explain why he said that the company is insolvent. Reorganization and put a fair valuation on the several securities. They will underwrite the plan for ten or fifteen million dollars, enough to carry thing. This bearing 4 per cent interest would make the fixed charges $1,600,000. It is thought that a 4 per cent bond would be considered a first-class investment. Now parties have been found

Mr. Comer to Major Bacon.

Mr. Comer to Major Bacon.

"In view of your statement in private speech and public utterances that it is got the intention of the legislation introduced by you to injuriously aftect legitimate railroad construction, reorganization and development, but is intended to prevent a solidification of stock to be held in perpetuty for purely speculative purposes, I address you this note.

purely speculative purposes, I address you this note.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the object you seek commends itself to me, and I believe will receive the approval of the people of this state. While this is true, the remedy is difficult to apply. Legislation at this time, may be productive of more evil than good. You are aware of the grave responsibility that has devolved on me, but I am gratified to say that a basis for an equitable reorganization of the Central railroad system has been agreed upon. If reorganization be not effected, the values of the common stock, jumior securities and stock of leased lines will in my opinion, be very seriously impaired, if not entirely destroyed. You appreciate fully how disastrous such a result would be to the very people whom you most desire to serve. Any legislation hostile in its character, or which might be construed, will jeopardize if not permit reorganization. A postponement of such legislation would be a serious menace and might result as disastrously as immediate action.

Ji well, therefore, of the condition of the Central railroad and of the circumstan.

J is well, therefore, of the condition of the Central railroad, and of the circumstances that environ it, I earnestly ask that you will co-operate with me in the effort to give to the proposed legislation now before the senate such directions as will best promote the success of the efforts I am now making for a reorganization by which the property of the junior security holders and of the stockholders of the Central railroad may be protected."

Major Bacon's Answer.

Major Bacon's Answer.

Major Bacon replied as follows:
Allanta, Ga., December 13, 1892.—Hugh M.
Comer, President Central Railroad and Banking Company. My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of this date, relative to home bills 35 and 136 now before the senate.

The purpose I have had in the proposed legislation is correctly stated by you. It is noted, however, that my design in the introduction of these bills has been industriously and grossly misrepresented. The real design was to protect railroad properties, not to injure.

Jure.

Ally purpose was to place upon the statute book laws which would in some measure protect minority stockholders against the schemes of professional ratiroad wreckers. These professional vreckers secure the majority of the stock of a ratiroad company and then proceed sysematically to wreck it with the purpose and intent to rob the minority stock-solders of their property. If there ever was a matter demanding legislation to correct so great an evil, I am convinced that this is it.

The discussions which have been had upon gyrations was once quoted in laye been therefore the people of the south have been enriched to the extent of $40,000,000 at the expense of the Terminal Compuny.

I cannot agree to the correctness of these propositions.

I believe that the existence of such a corporation in our midst, clothed with such unlimited powers, and armed with an estimated capital of five hundred millions of dollars, is a danger to our institutions and a menace to good government. Whether the state of Georgia has been benefitted by the manipulations of her railroads by this company is best shown by the ruin which has overtaken every railroad company in the state that the Terminal has touched. The prime object of the proposed legislation is to make unlawful the control of railroads in Georgia by corporations with such powers and such purposes as the Terminal company. The object is not to interfere with any legitimate enterprise. The propriety and importance of legislation properly directed to the accomplishment of this object I am prepared to defend here and elsewhere, now and hereafter; and nothing which has developed in the arguments before the senate committee has in any manner shaken the correctness of this position. Were the issue confined to the attacks made on the propriety of the proposed legislation abstractly considered. I should defend the same to the last, as I believe it to be to the true interest, not only of the holders of railroad stocks but also to the interest of the public.

I recognize, however, that what is right may not always be expedient generally, may not be expedient in a particular instance. As the receiver and president of the Central spatem, you say to me that the pendency of the bills introduced by me will leapordize and may prevent the reorganization of the Central system, and that if not so reorganized the value of the proposed legislation in this state may be entirely destroyed. This represents many millions of dollars to our peoper. As already stated, my purpose to rescue this valuable property from the d

THE GOVERNOR SIGNED IT.

Governor Northen signed the registration act yesterday for the city of Savannah. The population of the Forest City was wrought up over this matter and poured telegrams into the governor. Even for some time after he did sign the bill the Savannahians kept spending money on dispatches. One would come stating that eight hundred democrats in certain clubs were in favor of the bill and then another would be received announcing that several hundred more in the 'craw, or the old fort, hoped he would sign it. Altogether they got the voting population of the city up into high figures.

Hits the nail on the head—one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pelleta. They do the right thing in the right way. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels—thoroughly and effectively, but mildly and gently. They persuade, rather gently. They persuade, rather than force. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet's a gentle cathartic.

Pellet's a gentle laxative; three to four act as a cathartic. They're the smallest, but the best. There's less to take, but there's more good in it, when it's taken. They're the original Little Liver Pill, and they've never been equaled. Sick Headache, Hillous Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're quaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

Don't Make a Mistake.

We present elsewhere, on this page, a most important communication from Hon. William H. Fleming, in which he questions the constitutionality of the provision of the Confederate Home bill which conditions the acceptance of the home on a popular vote.

Mr. Fleming, who is an able constitutional lawyer, submits several authorities sustaining his position, the most direct of which is that from the American and English Cyclopedia of Law, one of the best known authorities to the legal fraternity, which says:

legislature has no constitutional power in enacting a general law applicable to all the people of a state, to condition its taking effect upon the casting of a popular vote in

'This authority is sustained by Judge Cooley, one of the ablest of American constitutional lawyers, and by twenty-five other decisions, while, as Mr. Fleming states, there is not a decision on record which would justify the legislature in shirking the responsibilty which belongs to itself and not to the people.

The suggestion that the senate reconsider its vote of yesterday, in which it passed the bill accepting the home, but conditioned its acceptance on the vote of the people to be cast at an election to be held in July next, should meet with prompt consideration this morning. The senate's reconsideration would enable the house also to correct the same error made when it adopted the provision submitting the acceptance of the home to the people Justice Demands Action.

The legislature will probably adjourn Saturday night. Before it does so, it should act on the report of the committee which has had under consideration the charges that have been made against Judge Gober, of the Blue Ridge circuit It is said that the committee is about ready to report and that it will submit its conclusions, after having made a full investigation of the matter, today or to-

Judge Gober's term of office expire with this month and it would be a serious mistake to postpone the settlement of the charges made against him, questioning his conduct as a judge during his present term, until after the expiration of the term of office during which such charges were made. Judge Gober is either guilty or inno cent. If the report of the committee is to the former effect, the state demands the settlement of the question before the new term begins. If the verdict vindicates Judge Gober, he is certainly entitled to have his record cleared without delay. By all means, let the committee make its report in time to give the general assembly opportunity to act on it before it adjourns. The question is one of too much importance to be left dangling in the air for seven months, and, above all, justice and right demand that the verdict be made up before the legislature quits business for the winter.

A Thirsty Sword.

The sword of Germany grows restless and longs to leap from its scabbard. It thirsts for blood and must have it.

According to the German minister, a great European war is inevitable, and the army must be placed on a war foot ing without delay.

The wish is father to the thought. No country menaces Germany. Even her hereditary enemy, France, is too much engaged with her own affairs at present to think of fighting. Why, then, should the Emperor William turn loose the dogs The answer comes from the inside of his empire. The farmers are discontented and impoverished, and their ruler sees that something must be done. With the natural instinct of militarism. he thinks that a foreign war would be a diversion, and would pacify the dissatissied at home. The lives that would be sacrificed he does not take into consideration, nor does he think of the sorrow that would be carried to thousands of

At the Paris exposition Victor Hugo delivered an eloquent plea for peace. He said that if it was murder to kill one man, the crime was not lessened by killing thousands. If it was theft to take one man's property, it was worse to rob a nation. He asked if mothers were to continue to bear children to perish by the sword. Pointing to the exposition he pronounced it the proper battlefield of nations, and urged the rulers of Europe to encourage such spirited rivalry and competition in the arts of peace, rather than the savage methods by which the weak fall victims to the strong.

Hugo's address would make good reading for the German emperor and his war inister at the present time. There is cessity for a European war. The edy for the discontent in Germany, in those countries deal fairly with the masses, and the outlook at home and abroad will become peaceful, and it will be safe to turn the sword into a plow-

An Extreme Measure.

The bill now pending in the house to absolutely prohibit the sale of cigarettes in Georgia will strike thoughtful citizens as altogether too extreme and sweeping An amendment to the bill includes arette material in the inhibition, and a substitute is still stronger in its terms. We fail to see the necessity for such radical legislation. We already have on our statute books a law forbidding the sale of cigarettes to minors. Is not this going about as far as we can safely go? The proposed law would simply make us ridiculous in the eyes of the outside world. and it would puzzle our lawmakers to know just where to draw the line.

We should proceed very cautiously with legislation restricting the personal liberty of the grown-up citizen so long as he does not interfere with the peace of society. The state cannot stand over every man as a guardian. The average citizen must be left free to act in some things and if his course shortens his life he must take

It is all right for the state to inhibit the sale of adulterated goods of any kind, but beyond this it should be careful how far it goes.

It seems to us that the passage of such a law would simply cause Georgia to be laughed at as an extreme, cranky, bluelaw state. It would do us a great deal of harm and no good that we can see. We had better remain on solid ground and not wander off after visionary reforms.

Enforce the law against selling cigarettes to minors, and don't consider the violation of important principles, until the laws now on the statute books are enforced.

An Experiment in Taxation.

How to equalize taxes and lighten the burden of the average citizen is one of the great problems of the day.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette thinks that the New York legislature has set a good example by providing for an inheritance tax. In the five years of its operation it has paid into the treasury about $7,000,000. The law now applies to both direct and collateral inheritances, the tax on the first being 1 per cent and on the other 5 per cent. During the year ending September the amount collected was $2,000,000, and the tax on Jay Gould's estate will be about $1,000,

The argument in favor of this tax is that it reaches and equalizes property which now only slightly feels the burden -personal property, which is rarely returned to any great extent for taxation. As the law exempts $10,000 of each inheritance, only the large estates would feel it and the heirs can well afford it.

The demand for more equal taxes will doubtless result in the adoption of the New York plan in many states unless we solve the problem by resorting to a federal income tax. The drift of public opinion favors the latter, and the fact that such a tax has worked satisfactorily in England for the past fifty years should be an answer to most of the objections that have been suggested.

The Reform Club Incident.

The outrageous insult offered to the democratic house and to the democratic speaker by the Reform Club of New York city will serve a very good purpose indeed, if it shall have the effect of calling the attention of democrats to the rea character and intentions of the club. We are aware of the fact that there are good democrats who are members of the club, but we are firmly of the opinion that they have been inveigled into the organization without understanding its character-that they were invited to join and gave their consent in a perfunctor; way, as people sign petitions without eading them or caring particularly what they are about.

The insult offered to Speaker Crisp and through him, to the democratic house was significant, but was it any more significant than the fact that the club put for ward Mr. Carl Schurz to instruct Mr. Cleveland and the democratic party generally as to the policy they should pursue Could anything be more significant than that, or show more clearly the character of those who control the Reform Club Mr. Schurz was empowered by the club to instruct Mr. Cleveland and the party, but when did he become a democrat Was he a democrat when he endorsed the villainy that counted out Mr. Tilden in 1876? Was he a democrat when he consented to enjoy the usufruct of that memorable steal by becoming Mr. Hayes's secretary of the interior? Was he a democrat when he supported Garfield and stumped the north for the republican ticket? Nevertheless, the Reform Club honored Schurz only less highly than it did Mr. Cleveland, and gave him precedence over the third officer of the government, the democratic speaker of the house

Mr. Hayes's secretary of the interior to show that the insult offered to Speaker Crisp was intentional and deliberate-s of the policy of an organization which is undemocratic in intentions, and which is anxious to bring about a breach in the democratic party. The democrats who have been invelgled into becoming members of the Reform Club do not con trol the concern, nor are they responsible for its undemocratic policy. As Congressman Amos Cummings says, one of the nembers of the Reform Club was a candidate for mayor of New York in 1890 in opposition to the regular democratic nominee, and he was assisted by the republicans: so that it may fairly be said that whenever the wind sets in the right direction those who have the manipulation of the organization of the club hasten to make it a republican annex. We are thus particular in setting forth these facts in order to show that Speaker Crisp was not insulted by democrats, or by those whose democratic sympathies begin and end in selfish desire to perpet uate the demonetization of silver in the nterest of the money power. Why was Schurz, a noted anti-democrat put forward? Simply because Mr. Schurz happens to believe for the moment in the single gold standard. Why was Speaker

Crisp, the third officer of the government, ected to an outrageous insult? ply because Mr. Crisp is in favor of the free coinage of silver.

Those newspapers that affect to regard the Reform Club as a democratic concern, suggest that Speaker Crisp is a little too sitive in regard to the failure of the president of the club to call on him for a speech; but, so far as we know, the speaker has betraved no undue sensitiveness in regard to the matter, nor troubled himself about it in any way. Perhaps his friends are a little sensitive, but it should be borne in mind that the most clamorous expressions of surprise have come from those who may be regarded as mere spectators of the passing show. Here was the third officer of the governmentafter the president and vice president the most important-ignored in favor of an ex-member of the fraudulent Hayes cabinet, and in favor of a number of gentlemen not particularly conspicuous. It is not the man that has been insulted, but the office he holds, and, through him, the democratic party of the house of representatives. It is the public that seems to be sensitive.

For our part, we think the event is very timely. It uncovers one of the masked batteries that has been harassing the democratic flanks for some time, and make plain the purpose of the money power.

The Reform Club did a great day's work when it put up Carl Schurz to outline the democratic policy. Mr. Schurz seems to be a democrat from way back. Let us hope that everybody will stand out of the way and give him room. He is always to be found hanging to the skirts of the victorious party. He froze to Hayes, then to Garfield and now he is trying to get a grip on Mr. Cleveland's coat tails.

The New York Herald is flinging handfulls of italic type at everybody and everything that pesters it.

The kangaroo ballot seems to have done a great deal of good in New England. It has shown the necessity of night school and a heap of 'em.

And so E. Ellery Anderson and Carl Schurz are to conduct democratic legisla-tion and control democratic policy? We have in this inspiring combination the orignal Hoodoo of Mugwumpery.

We judge from the inevocable past, se to speak, that The New York Herald would object to seeing the democratic party in a hole.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

"El Paso, Texas, once showed the rains makers a trick or two, at their own trade," said Dr. Byrne, in St. Louis on Friday. "The rainmakers went out to El Paso last year and blew any number of large rectangular holes in the o'erhanging firmament, but not a drop of water could they persuade to trickle a drop of water could they persuade to trickle through. The McGinty Club got up a reception for the visitors, and one number on the pro-gramme was a 'Heavy Shower.' After the guests had enjoyed themselves for an hour guests and enjoyed themselves for an nour or more in the refectory, the president of the McGintra announced that a rainfall would be produced as the finale of the festive occasion. The head rainmaker marched out, clothed from head to heel in rubber and bearing an enormous umbrella. His assistants followed, clothed in like manner, and carrying a box of Roman candles, skyand carrying a box of Roman candles, sky rockets firecrackers, devil chasers, etc. McGintys marched round in a circle a few times, chanting doggerel rhymes, then touched off their fireworks. Immediately a fine shower began to fall, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The faces of the visitors were a study. They knew the McGintys were making a stage play, but they were some time catch-ing on. On the roofs of the buildings were men with hose to which spray nozzles were attached. In a court another weathermaker was touching off handfuls of powder, while the colored hotel porter was down in the weathermaker cellar in company with the gong. The visi-tors enjoyed the joke immensely and El Paso to this day tells how, after the rainmakers had failed to coerce Jupiter Pluvius, their own McGintys came to the rescue and sup-plied rain after all."

about the close of the term under the Cleve-land administration and is as follows: (Copy A. D. R.)

September 6, 1887.—To the Attorney General: I have examined the office of J. W. Nelms, United States marshal of the northern district of Georgia, as directed by the department letter.

The number and kind of books used by him n the conduct of his office and the mode of seeping them was made the subject of a separate report by me, dated ———, to which titention is respectfully called in connection The marshal has complied with instructions to marshals as laid down in the register of the department of justice of the peace in the matter of letter book and letter file. Upon an funds intrusted to him for the use of his office and has accounted for all of it. His books are balanced each week and a weekly statement forwarded to the department of justice, the substance of which is retained in his office as directed. His earnings from whatever source are fully and properly accounted for in his emolument returns forwarded. In fact his office is conducted strictly on business principles, honestly and with a view to the best interest of the government. I could learn of no officious intermeddling on the part of his deputies, nor of the working up of business by them. They are instructed by the marshal to avoid this and to do their duty by executing legal process placed in their hands, leaving the matter of information to others. * *

The execution of process for the violation of internal revenue law in this district is attended with great hardship and danger. Since the incumbency of the present marshal two of his deputies and six guards have been killed in and for the discharge of their duty; many others have been shot at without effect and sundry guides and informers have been tied up and whipped, had their property destroyed and been compelled, under threats of death and destruction, to leave the country. This treatment of the officers of the law of course greatly hinders and retards the execution of process and endangers the lives of officers who are faithful and brave enough to execute it.

There are sundry judgments in favor of the government upon which executions have been issued and placed in the hands of the marshal for collection, which have not been executed nor have any steps been taken to collect the sums—some of which I learned been issued and placed in the hands of the marshal for collection, which have not been executed nor have any steps been taken to collect the sums—some of which I learned could be collected. I called on the marshal for an explanation of this matter and any information or suggestions which he might make on the subjects above referred to. He answered in a written communication, which I hereto affix, marked "Exhibit A." and respectfully call your attention to the same for fuller information on these subjects. In this communication the marshal gives as a reason why he does not proceed to collect these judgments, that the rates charged for the necessary advertising is higher in his district than is allowed under the United States statutes and that his accounts for printing heretofore incurred, although certified not to exceed the commercial rates charged to private individuals for the same class of work, have been disallowed by the first comptroller and that he is not willing to individually pay the differences in the prices charged for printing in his district and those allowed under the comptroller's construction of the United States statutes.

In this communication it will also be seen that the business of the marshal's office at Atlinta has decreased during the term of the present incumbent $9,898. This I attribute chiefly to a failure to prosecute violators of the internal revenue law for restalling liquor. Unon dilicent inquiry I could hear no complaint of Marshal Nelms as an officer. The conduct of his office as evinced by the records and his reputation in the community for integrity, energy and courage tustify the belief that he is a most efficient officer and worthy of any confidence that may be reposed in him as such, and I take pleasure in so recommending him. I have the honor to be very respectfully.

The Legislature Has No Authority to DelegateIts Power-What Will the Senate Do? Editor Constitution-I ask space in you Editor Constitution—I ask space in your columns to submit to the public, and especially the senate, some facts and opinions touching the Soldiers' home bill.

As you know, an amendment was engrafted on the bill in the house making the accept-

That amendment was proposed, not by the Trian amendment was proposed, not yet friends, but by the enemies of the bill. If it had never been offered at all I am quite sure we wouldhave passed the bill by a majority of from five to ten votes. But after it was offered, if we (that is, the friends of the measure) had kept up our fight in the then temper of the house against allowing the people to vote on it, it is more than probathe people to vote on it, it is more than be ble that a sufficient number of wavering might on the spur of the occasion have won over to our opponents to prevent us from securing the necessary majority of eighty-we could have done, on the expediency and legality of that amendment, but allowed it to stand and sent the bill to the senate, where we hoped the conditions for impartial and dispassionate consideration would be more

The senate, however, has passed the bill

The senate, however, has passed the bill as it went from the house, except that it changed the time of the popular election from January to July.

The senate still has the power to reconsider its action on passing the bill. That power must be exercised tomorrow morning after the reading of the journal or not at all. So much for the history of the matter. For one, I wish to say that while I believe the people would give a majority for the home. I ple would give a majority for the home, I did not vote for the amendment submitting the question to a popular vote, and I never will vote for it. Along with other members of the house, I acquiesced under the compulsion of circumstances, and so stated openly. I was opposed to such a course because it was a surrender of authority on the part of was a surrender of authority on the part of the legislature: because it was a shifting of our responsibility; because from the very nature of the case we were in a better condition to judge of the wisdom of the measure than the péople could possibly be at the polls; because our political conditions were peculiar and would be made most anomalous by permitting a question of such a nature to be scrambled over at the ballot box, and last, but not least, because our proud old state, in the more than century of her existence, could furnish no precedent for such an evasine course on the part of the men she had chosen furnish no precedent for such an evas course on the part of the men she had cho to legislate for her.

But laying aside all questions of expediency But laying aside all questions of expediency there is a still more serious objection to the amendment. It is unconstitutional. All the authorities say so. I can find not one deci-sion to the contrary on a case parallel to

As a lawyer, I readily admit that the legislature may charter a private company and leave it optional with the incorporators to accept the charter or not; that the same be done with a municipality by allowing the voters to accept or reject; and also that what we term local option laws to permit or prevent the sale of spirituous liquors, etc., are constitutional. But in all such cases special persons or localities are specially concerned. What I deny is, that a legislature can pass What I deny is, that a legislature can pass a bill of general operation over the entire state and make its taking effect dependent upon a popular vote of the whole state for or against it.

On this point I shall quote authority: "One is, that the power conferred upon the legisla-ture to make laws cannot be delegated by that department to any other body or authority." Cooley, page 137. "If the decision thority." Cooley, page 137. "If the decision of these questions is to depend upon the weight of judicial authority up to the present time; it must be held that there is no power to refer the adoption or rejection of a general law to the people of the state any more than there is to refer it to any other authority.

New York, p. 483 and ten other decisions there cited.

"It is an established principle of constitutional law that the power conferred upon the legislature to enact laws cannot be delegated by that department to any other body or authority." See American and English Cyclopedia of Law, p. 698, and twenty-five decisions there cited.

"But the legislature has no constitutional power in enacting a general law applicable to all the people of the state to condition its taking effect upon the casting of a popular vote in its favor." See Cyclopedia of Law, p. 700 and fifteen decisions there cited.

In view of these facts, Mr. Editor, is it expecting or asking too much to beg the senate to reconsider its vote and let the truth and the law prevail?

Such a course would evince not the weakness of vacillation, but the courage to doright, and perhaps save the bill from a veto. Respectfully,

THE LEAGUE'S BREAKFAST.

To Be Given Vice President Elect Stevens on the Morning of the 22d.

All arrangements were completed yesterday morning for the elegant breakfast which the Young Men's Democratic League will tender Vice President-elect Stevenson and his party on the morning of December 22d. The breakfast will be held in the breakfast room of the new Arragon hotel on Peachtree street, and will be the most elegant affair of its kind ever given in Atlan-

The executive committee of the league recently met at the office of Chairman Colviile to complete the arangements for the entertainment of General Stevenson and his party. A special committee consisting of Messrs. Fulton Colville, Burton Smith, J. R. Gray, Arnold Broyles and J. K. Ohl was appointed to take charge of the details of the entertainment. This committee me

The charge for plates at the breakfast has been fixed at $10 apiece. In considering applications, members of the league will be given the preference, and all members de-siring to be present should send in their applications, accompanied with their checks by Thursday morning, to any member of the above committee. There will be doubt-less enough plates left over to accommodate such gentlemen who are not members of the league as desire to attend, but all applications should be in by Thursday morn-ing, as the number will be limited to fifty.

There will be but little speaking. The ora-tors of the occasion on behalf of the club will be Judge A. E. Calhoun and Hon. William P. Hill. There will be responses from the distinguished guests.

Calvin bank bill came up in the or settlement yesterday morning tabled to come up again after the session has begun.

Calvin bank bill has been talked meh of late days and is still me of the state.

It is one which provides for the mag and issuance to state banks of state notes. The primary object of the state of Georgia position where she can reap without the benefits of the section of the mate congress in repealing the 10 can tax on state banks.

In the bill was called yesterday, alta the bill was called yesterday, alta Mr. Calvin did not particularly derrish the measure to a final action tax, he at the same time wanted to the facts of the case clear to every and occupied the floor a consideratine explaining the full purposes of the mas follows:

when a bank desires to get these as notes, it will first deposit in the of the state bonds of this state, States bonds, or bonds of other amount equal amount of notes it wishes. If it 10,000 worth of notes, it deposits a bonds and thus every note is amount of notes than the deposit of bonds authorizes.

"If any of the bonds at any time depreciate in value, the commissioners will require the bank to substitute such bonds with good bonds.

"If a bank fails to redeem its notes, the commissioners shall dispose of the bonds and apply the proceeds to the redemption of said notes.

"Each bank shall name at least one ban in each congressional district at which I notes will be redeemable.

"The banks shall meet the expenses incident to the engraving and printing the notes.

"If warrant and mutilated notes of a bank are presented to the commissioners, they shall destroy the same and give an amount of new notes equal to the destroyed notes."

"The bill provides for a local currency as good as national bank notes.."

It was tabled.

To Hurry On.

The following were appointed as a committee to hasten business by the house premainder of the session by motion of Calvin, of Richmond:

Fleming, of Richmond, chairman; Hall, of Spalding: Hill, of Meriwether; Bolfeuillet Neel, of Floyd; Osborne. They went at once to work and will ascertain just what bills must be passed this year and what may lie over until next summer.

At the night session the house passed the general bill for carrying into effect the amendment to the constitution requiring the secretary of state to issue charters for banking companies. The bill is by McBride, of Haraison.

The bill by Allen, of Upson, repealing those sections of the code allowing the legislature to grant railroad charters, was passed at that there shall be no conflict between the recent law requiring the secretary of state to grant these charters.

The bill for the sipking fund, introduced by Hall, of Spalding, chairman of the finance committee, was passed.

The following resolution by Branch, of Columbia, was passed after much debate, Fleming, of Richmond, being the leader of Columbia, was passed after much debate, Fleming, of Richmond, being the leader of the opposition:

Whereas, article 4, section 2, paragraph 4 of the constitution of the state, declares that:

The general assembly of this state shall have no power to authorize any corporation in this state, or elsewhere, or to make any contract, or agreement whatever, with any such corporation which may have the effect, or to be intended to have the effect, to defeat or lessen competition in their respective businesses or to encourage monopoly; and all such contracts and agreements shall be illegal and void.

Resolved, by the general assembly, That when the governor is satisfactorily informed that the above recited provision of the constitution has been violated, he shall cause the attorney general to institute in the superior court of the county where the principal office of said corporation, or either of them, is located, suitable proceedings in the name of the state of Georgia to the end that said contract or agreement shall be canceled and adjudged to be illegal and void.

The speaker's vote was necessary to secure the necessary majority.

until some of the amendments were disposed of.

There was a deluge of speeches on one phase or another of the measure. Senators Humphries, Blalock and Scaife favored the July amendment. Senator Pinson made a strong speech, urging the senate to take the responsibility and accept the home. He showed his appreciation of the old and infirm confederate veterans and also of the duty of senators to settle the question absolutely themselves. He was for the bill and declared that he would not under any circumstances, vote to place upon the voters of the state an obligation which should be borne by the senate.

that he was ready to take the responsibility. He did not want to shirk it. He was emphatically opposed to trusting the fate of this noble institution to an election in which the colored vote might be thrown heavily against the home. A vote on the home in April or July would not settle the question. After that its friends would have to knock at the doors of the general assembly. "Come up like men," said he, "and vote for accepting the home right now." If, however, it should not be the sense of the senate to do that but to submit the question to an election, then he preferred July to April. Senator Edwards made an able ppeal for the old soldiers and left no doubt bont his position on the matter.

Senator Smith, of the thirty-fourth, was against referring the question to a popular election. He said that it would be an insult to the manhood of the state, to take that action. He wanted then and there, just as 'Senators Edwards and Finson did. He answered the objection that had been raised that the bill was chiefly backed by sentiment. Whether it was sentiment or not he was in favor of the home. Senator Fleming spoke briefly for the home.

Senator Hatcher was the only member who made a speech straight out against home.

Senator Hatcher was the only member who made a speech straight out against acceptance. His objection was a constitutional one. Twice when the people have desired to relieve the old soldiers, the question had to be referred to the people. Two constitutional amendments regarding pensions for veterans were submitted to the people.

The vote on the acceptance of the home after Senator Monk's amendment fixing the election for July was adopted, was twenty-four in favor of accepting to sevtwenty-four in favor of accepting to seventeen against.

The ayes were: Messrs. Blalock, Corput, Crawford, Daley, Edwards, Fleming, Hackett, Jenkins, Johnson. Matthews, Moore, Persons, Rembert, Robbe, Robinson, Russell, Sirmans, Smith of the fifteenth, Smith of the thirty-fourth. Smith of the forty-first, Whittaker, Wilson of the thirteenth, Wilcox, Wooten—total 24.

The nays were: Messrs. Chambers, Davis, Dennard, Fitzgerald, Gholston, Hatcher, Humphries, McAfee, Pinson, Pope, Reaves, Reese, Scaife, Smith of the nineteenth, Thompson, Wright of the first, Wright of the thirty-eighth—total 17.

There is just a chance that a motion to reconsider may be made this morning. To prevent that Senator Corput moved that the action of the senate be immediately transmitted to the house, but an objection was raised and the motion failed.

Teachers Must Wait.

Teachers Must Wait.

Directly after the house bill was passed Senator Corput called up the bill to authorize the issue of $368,000 of bonds. This was a house bill introduced by Representative Ham, of Hall, and was intended to put the state in such a financial condition that the public school teachers could be paid quarterly instead of having to wait a year. Senator stead of having to wait a year. Senator Corput explained the bill in a short speech. He said that in 1870 there was in the state treasury a school fund amounting to short $402.000 there was in the state treasury a school fund amounting to about $402,000. This fund accured under the act of 1858 from poll tax and other sources. Although this amount was specifically set aside for school purposes, it was appropriated by the general assembly in the year 1871 for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the state government. The legislature afterwards undertook to float $350,000 of bonds authorized by the act of 1858, so as to replace this $402,000 of school money. At that time the credit of the state was not good and par could not be obtained for the bonds. Under the constitution, they could not be sold by the state for less than par. So they were not floated. During Governor Gordon's term, these bonds and their coupons were destroyed under a resolution of the general assembly. The deficiency existed can be traced to the acts of the legislature diverting the school bonds from its original purpose. Since organization of our present school system, the teachers have been paid at the end of the scholastic year. As a rule the teachers are not able to defray their personal expenses for a whole year, and must discount their salary at a great sacrifice. The object sought by the finding of this interest us to let the burden of carrying this deficit rest on the state instead of on the poorly paid teachers of the public schools.

Senator Corput had the opinion of ex-on the poorly paid teachers of the public schools.

Senator Corput bad the opinion of exAttorney Clifford Anderson, N. J. Hammond and Mr. W. A. Little read, all of whom said that the bill was constitutional. After the reading of these opinions, the senator stated that it rested with the senate to say whether the teachers shall be paid quarterly or not. If paid quarterly, shall it be done by direct taxation which will necessitate the levying of an additional tax of about one mill or by the funding of the interest coupons?

Senator Robinson and Pinson concluded that the people ought to have a chance to vote in this matter too, and Senator Pinson offered an amendment to refer the issue of the bonds to an election to be held on the third Wednesday in July. The amendment was rather screastic in motive, and created a laugh.

Senator Chambers, Edwards and Persons opposed the bill. Senator Chambers took the position that an opposition should be made direct. The other two senators made constitutional objections.

The bill was lost by the vote of 10 for to 33 against. Senator Corput called for the yeas and nays and this is the way they voted:

Yeas—Blalock, Corput, Fleming, Hum-

twenty-first; Wright, of the thirty-eighth. Total 33.

This is the first time at this term that every senator has voted.

Senator McAfee's bill to abolish the county teachers institutes and deduct from teachers salacies for time lost in attending them was passed.

There will not be a commissioner of pardons. The bill to establish an office to relieve the governor of a great mass of work which no executive can ever catea up with, was defeated by the senate.

was defeated by the senate.

The Railroad Committee.

The house committee on railroads spent yesterday afternoon considering a bill to prevent discrimination in compressing cotton. President Comer of the Central and Mr. J. B. English, of Macon were before the committee. Final action was deferred. The senate committee on railroads was expected to take up Mr. Bacon's bills last night but did not. The committee meets tonight. President Comer may make an argument from the standpoint of the minority stockholders.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock NEW YORK, December 13.—Money closed at 4 to 7; lowest rate, 4; highest, 7. Exchange, Governments, steady; currency 6s, 105 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid; 4s, coupon, 114 1-4 bid.

There was fair amount of trading on the stock exchange during the morning hours today, the Gould stocks, as on the several preceding days, were the features. They were heavily pressed for sale from the opening up to 6:30 o'clock, when, under their lead, prices were 1-8 to 2 per cent lower than they closed last evening. Manhattan was the weakest stock and led the decline. Toward 11 o'clock the selling died out and the market became almost stagnant. A few of the list were bid up fractionally from the lowest figures, but in the second hour an announcement of further engagements of gold for shipment abroad, there was renewed selling to a moderate extent, under which prices again declined to the lowest point by midday. The sales for the morning amounted to 125.586 shares. The principal dealings were in Burlington, Whisky Trust and National Starch Trust. The stock market was a little more active after 12 o'clock and quite a number of facts advanced sharply. An upward movement was started by the announcement that the Minneapolis and St. Louis committee have notified the court that they were able to pay the equipment bonds and the foreclosure suit was, therefore, postponed. The Rock Island will receive about $4,000,000 in cash from the payment of the Minneapolis and St. Louis equipment bonds. The announcement caused sharp buying, which extended not only to Rock Island hut other leading stocks, and shorts covered considerably. The Distilling companies' directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 11-2 per cent and it will be declared by the full board tombrow. The Manhattan directors today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 11-2 per cent and it will be declared by the full board tombrow. The Manhattan directors today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 11-2 per cent and it will be declared by the full board tombrow. Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

MBW YOEK, December 13—Spot sales in Liverpool today were 6,000 bales. Futures opened at an advance of 5-84d, but lost the improvement in part and closed 364-84d higher than yesterday. Our cables say that the recession is due to the fear of bigger receipts next week and the small purchases of spot cotton by the spinners. The slight advance in Liverpool, in view of the strength shown by our market yesterday, was a distinct disappointment to the trade here, and an opening decline of 10 points brought out considerable long cotton. After the opening the market rallied slightly, but again sold off until an extreme loss of 12 points from last night's figures had been established by 11 o'clock. A recovery of 6 points followed by 1 o'clock. The recovery was in part due to the receipt of several eables from Liverpool advising that the crop prospects in East India were less favorable, and that the supply of cotton available from that quarter would not exceed last year's production. A very prominent export house with branches in East India at once cabled for information and received a reply stating that erop prospects are favorable, and that an increase in the shipments to Europé from East India as compared with last year, is expected. Manchester is reported to be more favorable, but limits are generally impracticable. During the afternoon the market developed increased strength. Then news of the vigor of Senator George's advocacy of the anti-option bill in the senate was received, and its immediate effect was to cause a decline of 6 points. At the close a feeble reaction of 2 points was effected and final prices were steady.

CHICAGO, December 13.—The world's available supply of wheat and flour has increased about thirty-five millions of bushels, about one-haif of which has been in our visible supply. This and the extreme dullness has caused a good many holders to sell out today. The principal support of the market has been from the shorts. The final figures were 78 1-4 bid, or about 1-2cent lower than yerterday. The receipts of nearly one thousand cars at Minneapolis and Duluth, or over one million bushels at primary points, was one of the discouraging features to holders. Corn and oats closed at about the same figures as yesterday. There is really no local speculative feature in either. The only thing falked of in the provision pit is the scarcity of hogs. A large packer from Evansville, Ind., states they are not receiving enough to run their house more than one day out of the week, and it is his opinion that there are very few hogs in the country. The Cudahy Packing Company and Charley Wright were very heavy buyers in May lard. This caused an advance of about 20 cents per 100 pounds. The immediate demand for cash lard seems to be supplied. Notwithstanding the advance in futures, January is 10 to 15 cents lower than yesterday. Pork and ribs were a shade higher, but not very active. They did not respond to the advance in hogs at the yards.

Central Road Trains Running Smoothly 'Atlanta to Macon.

TRAINS OUT ON TIME YESTERDAY

Unhappy Experience of a Non-Union Op-erator Who Tried to Work in the Atlanta Yards' Office.

Traffic on this end of the Central had no been affected by the strike of operators up to last night, according to the statements of the road officials, and to outward appear

All day long yesterday passengers trains on the Central pulled out of the union depot as on days previous, and came in fittle or none delayed. Out on Mitchell street freight trains came in nearly every hour in the day, on their usual schedules. Heavy freight trains were made up and marked out with the accustomed regularity. The only difference caused by the strike was that outgoing freight trains did not wait for per-ishable freight as heretofore. They had to get out on schedule time, and not even per ishable freights were sufficient cause for Five telegraph keys in the Mitchell street office were closed and the sounders were silent. The two operators that manipulated them up to 2 o'clock Monday walked about the yards watching things. They had little to say, except that they believed that they would win, because they thought that they had the right side of the controversy.

Freight Agent Haskell said he knew lit-tle of the strike except its effect on the road's traffic, which was not appreciable as yet. He said he knew absolutely nothing of the status of the strike, or of the likelihood of settlement. Early yes-terday morning he secured two operatos, and taking two clerks out of his office he started out on the line to supply important vacancies caused by the strike. One operator he placed at East Point, one at hapeville and another at Jonesboro. The two men taken from his office were placed at East Point and Jonesboro, at which places an agent is necessary to handle freights. During the day two operators were put to work at Gritin offices. Three were working in the office at Macon. Other places on the road will be filled today. Agent Haskell says that operators are at work at all junctions that operators are at work at all junctions on the road.

Yardmaster Broyles, of the Central, says that every train went out on time yesterday, and for verification of his statement he referred to the register, which showed ope train delayed for five minutes. He says the strike has not even occasioned temporary inconvenience. The Central, he says, has only been running by train orders recently, and can easily dispense with them altogether. When the Central ran by schedule alone no road was more prompt or efficient in making its schedules; it was never behind time. Now the trains are running on old schedules.

In regard to the statement that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers would refuse to haul anything except the mails if the strike was not speedily settled, a member of the order said yesterday that they could not do so, even if they were so inclined. They could, however, refuse to accept running orders from inexperienced operators.

The two striking operators in Atlanta, Messrs. Landsers and Due, are quiet, gentlemanly fellows, and are waiting quietly for a solution of the trouble. They are tlemanly fellows, and are waiting quietly for a solution of the trouble. They are not at all noisy.

There was no operator for the Central at the Mitchell street office after noon yesterday. A luckless knight of the key consented in an evil moment to take the place. He filled it for a few short hours, during which time be concluded that life was not worth living. From all over the line operators called him up and called him ngly names. Six operators wired him that they were coming to Atlanta with guns and make him leave. It was all for fun, but after it had gone on for a half day he was in a sad state. He disappeared from the office during the morning, and no one knows where he went. He deserted his key. This they know. "We didn't even get the fellow's name on the payroll," said Bill Love. "The poor fellow ought to have been paid, for he was worried to death while he was with us. If we knew his name we might do something for him."

A great deal of sympathy has been expressed for the telegraphers. They are a hard worked set of employes, and their average salaries are forty-five dollars per month.

QUIET IN, MACON,

Though the Indications Are That the Road Is Having Some Trouble

Macon, Ga., December 13:-(Special.)-There are no new developments at point in the telegraphers' strike on the Central road. None of the strikers could be seen around the union depot at noon today, and the affairs of the road seem to be moving on in the usual systematic order.

Mr. W. P. Epperson, the trainmaster of the main stem, was seen and stated that at 9 o'clock this morning the company gained exclusive control of wires between Macon and Savannah, and now orders are being sent and received as usual. That there are only seven vacancies to fill between these points, and that nineteen offices are in regular working order. A large percentage of the operators who are now at work are members of the oganization but have renounced their allegiance to the order declaring that they could not afford to give up their jobs and go out on a strike. The majority of the strikers are young men between eighteen and twenty yeas of age and are receiving a salary of not more than $40 and $50 per month and it is simply a $40 and $50 per month and it is simply a question of more salary with them.

A full corps of train dispatchers are now at work, all having refused to strike, except one in Savannah. It is erroneously reported that the operator at Wadley refused to take train orders, but on the contrary one of the dispatchers in Savannah refused or neglected to send them and for this cause the dispatcher was dismissed.

Between Macon and Atlanta there are three dispatchers, but someone on the line between here and Griffin persists in leaving his key open and they are now investigating the matter.

"I wish you would say in The Constitution," said Mr. Epperson, "that the conduct of the strikers yesterday, except at Macon, was simply outrageous. Instead of leaving their desks in an orderly and gentlemanly manner when the strike was annomiced they remained in and around the offices using their wires to communicate with each other, cursing and using the vilest and is considered a fair average price.
As a matter of course, parties using a large amount of power would get it cheaper, and those only using a small amount of power, say one-eighth, one-quarter, one-half, one, two, three, four and five horse power would have to pay more for the epithets unmindful of the lady operators along the line. This was kept up the entire afternoon and night. I am in receipt of a letter stating that the men on the South Carolina division did not so out. We have been preparing for this strike for the past three weeks and are more determined than ever not to recognize their organization which we never heard of until six months ago. The engineers and conductors have ever proven true and loyal to our road and we do not expect any trouble from them. we do not expect any trouble from them.

Our trains today are all running on regular schedule and in a day or two the strike will be a thing of the past."

Employing Watchmen.

larations that they do not anticipate any trouble from the strikers, a special was made up this evening to carry fifteen or twenty men, whom they employed here today with a guarantee of $3 per day and expenses, who they will use as special watchmen at the various stations between Macon and Atlanta. A job is promised them until all the offices along the line can be supplied with meritars.

HE JOINED THE STRIKERS.

A New Man Who Went on at Fort Valley Fort Valley, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)— Great interest has been manifested here today in the telegraphers' strike, Fort Valley being the main telegraph station on the Southwestern division. All trains on the Columbus and Enfaula branches run from here to Mawestern division. All trains on the commons and Enfanta branches run from here to Macon on the same track and the authorities have always kept the best men they could find in this office here, knowing how liable they were to have a collision between here and Macon.

Last night when Operators Reed and Joyner walked out of the office here until noon today, when a new man walked in and was instatted by agent Maione. When he walked from the train to the office he was jeered by a large number of people from the waiting room and on the train. He worked for two and one-half hours trying to cat his mistraments in by manipulating the plugs in the large switch board, and with the help of two nego linemen he finally succeeded in cutting in one wire. The new man told the waiting room porter that the reason he could not cut his instruments in was because he had had only three months' experience. When this report got out, he, fearing arrest on the Boifeuillett law, told a different tale. His experience is being investigated and if it is found out that he is short of the time required by law, the civil authorities here will arrest him, even if the road is in the hands of a United States court receiver, as his position, compled with inexperience, endangers life and property. A justice of the peace is now writing a report from the investigation, as public sympathy here is largely with the operators.

There is no freight being received at any stations between Columbus and Macon except at Fort Valley and Howard, and at many stations on the Eufaula branch they are receiving no freight. All frains sent out on this division today have gone through so far without accident. Everything is quiet at the road's office here at 7 o'cbock p. m.

He Joined the Strikers. The man in charge of the railroad telegraph office here for today walked out at 7:50 and joined the striking operators, and reports have it that all the new men are in sympathy with them, as they will, by leaving the offices, receive the protective fund benefits. His grit or candor in walking out is commended here. He left on the last train for Macon.

HOW IT LOOKS AT GRIFFIN-

The Efforts to Get New Men Seem to Have Failed.

Griffin, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—The situation in regard to the telegraphers strike remains unchanged here. Passenger trains are passing about on time, though they seem slimly patronized; while freights are badly off time on the main stem with no arrivals and only one departure on the Chattanooga division since last night. The exception was a freight which left here at 11 o'clock this morning as second section of a passenger train train.

Several unsuccessful efforts have been made to fill the strikers places here, but no new men has so far been found who would stick. Two came down from Atlanta this morning but returned on the evening train. One of them said he was a professor in a telegraph college but had never held any office position and was incompetent.

them said he was a professor has a tegraph college but had never held any office position and was incompetent.

Tonight eight of the same kind passed through en route to Savannah. Stockholders are now contending that the road has lost heavily enough by the diversion of travel and traffic, and they do not care to see wrecked frains and damage suits added to this, especially in the road's depressed financial condition. One of the striking men said to The Constitution tonight that he was informed that the mail train on the Chattanooga division was side-tracked on account of not having orders to proceed beyond the regular meeting point of the Chattanooga and Romaccommodation, which meeting place is twenty seven miles out from Chattanooga. The accommodation being an east bound train and having the right of track, the mail is blocked. This is no fault of the relegraphers, but due This is no fault of the relegraphers, but due to a rule of the company.

The east bound train is tied in Chattanooga for the reason that they cannot get order to meet the ingoing train. If this kind of matter is not remedied it will probably call for a settlement by Judge Speer, in whose hands the road is by virtue of his power, appointing the receiver.

A Slight Clash at Birmingham.

A Slight Clash at Birmingham.

Birmingham. Ala., December 13.—(Special.)
The strike of operators on the Central road has had no effect in this city. All trains are coming and going as usual. The incoming passenger train was delayed over an hour by the failure of the Georgia Pacific operator at Weems to copprehend the situation. The two roads use the same track from Weems to Birmingham and the operator at first refused to give the Central train its orders, but he reconsidered and the danger that the Georgia Pacific would become involved passed away.

Augusta iu Brief.

Augusta, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)— Augusta's population is 41,687 now. These are figures furnished today by Mr. Walter How-ard, who has just completed a canvass of the city, getting up the city directory. This is an increase of 8,515 over the United States census of 1890.

Captain John M. Hays has retired from the race for county sheriff. This leaves Captain P. O'Connor in the race alone, and he will be elected without opposition.

HE IS DYING.

There is No Hope for Judge Cun-

WHO LIES DYING IN WEST END-

The Becord of His Life and Services-A Important Law Case—His Family Relations.

Judge John D. Cunningham lies dying at his home in West End.

His death is bourly expected, and his longest lease on life is placed by the physicians at not more than two days. All day cians at not more than two days. All day yesterday he lay in an unconcious condition, not even recognizing his wife.

Judge Cunningham was born in Chambers county, Ala., at Oak Bowery, the country residence of his father, Thomas, March 28, 1840. He was educated at Emory and Henry colleges and begun the study of law when only seventeen years old under the two most eminent men in the state. These instructors were Chief Justice Clopton and Governor Robert F. Ligon. In 1860 he was admitted to practice, and in the same year he married Miss Cornelia Dobbins, the daughter of Miles G. Dobbins, of Griffin, Ga., afterwards one of the most prominent bankers in Atlanta. In 1874 Judge Cunningham moved to Atlanta.

Before this, however, he had won his title of judge; he was appointed judge of the state court of Montgomery county, Ala., with unlimited jurisdiction in that county. Although at the time of his appointment he was only twenty-six years, by his probity in all matters and his great conservatism, he had won the confidence of every practitioner in his court. As a lawyer who thoroughly understood every technical point, Judge Cunningham stood pre-eminent among the barristers of

He has engaged in many important cases, and at one time he had charge of a suit which involved two million dollars and required his presence in London for several months.

While in London he not only met a number of distinguished presence but also made.

While in London he not only met a number of distinguished per sonages but also made a formal call upon Queen Victoria.

Judge Cunningham has always been a strong advocate of the great principles of the temperance, and he was one of the foremost temperance men in the land. It is said that at one time, when Judge Cunningham was asked if he would sell the surplus fruit for distillation, he answered: "I give away m-surplus fruit to make hogs out of pigs, but I will not sell it at any time to make hogs out of men."

Judge Cunningham is one of the largest fruit raisers in the state and at one time shipped no less than forty thouse nd crates of fruit into various states. Of late years, however, his fruit business has been taken care of by Mr. John D. Cunningham, Jr.

The family of Judge Cunningham consists of his wife and seven children: Mr. John D. Cunningham, Jr., Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mr. Miles D. Cunningham, Miss Ruth Cunningham, Master George Cunningham, and Alfred and Susie, the two youngest children

MANCHESTER'S POSTOFFICE.

The Application In and the P. M. Agreed On. Manchester, whose remarkable progress in everything has excited the attention of the state, has just illustrated a very hope-ful state of harmony in the choice of a ful state or narmony in the choice of a postmaster.

A petition signed by 205 interested names has been sent to the postoffice department asking for the establishment of a postoffice in that promising town, and nearly every one of the two hundred is a unit for Colonel Dave Sloan as postmaster.

The genial colonel has no opposition for the place and the noted department will

The genial colonel has no opposition for the place, and the postal department will doubtless remember Atlanta's radiant suburb, as the one place where there was no wrangle over the postmastership.

Coloenl Sloan will make Manchester an ideal postmaster and the boys and girls at these great colleges will learn in future to read his face with anxiety to "see if there is anything for me."

There are many new houses going up and a score or more will be begun in a few weeks.
